What will I be studying?

Here's a brief explanation of the kind of courses offered at schools and colleges in the UK:

A Level Courses

If you come to the UK aged 16-18, you will most likely study A Levels. They're great for students who want to challenge themselves in a particular subject or who have ambitions to continue studying in Higher Education.

Students typically choose 3 courses over 2 years from a wide choice of subjects including (but not limited to) Maths, Science, Languages, Arts, Media, Design, Computing, Humanities and more.

BTEC Vocational Courses

These are alternative qualifications with different levels equivalent either to GCSEs or A Levels in vocational subjects such as Travel and Tourism, Performing Arts, Sports, Music, Applied Science and Childcare. They are assessed much more on coursework than examinations. BTECs are ideal for those who have strong inclinations towards a particular vocational career.

GCSEs

This is the level below A Level and is what British students study between ages 14-16. There are some core mandatory subjects such as English, Maths and Science but there are also some options available in which it's possible to choose other subjects to study. Some Private schools also offer the IGCSE.

IB Programmes

Another option offered at some schools is the International Baccalaureate Diploma (IB). Taken instead of A Levels or BTECs, the prestigious and rigorous 2-year IB programme consists of a standard set of courses and corresponding assessments. This qualification is internationally recognised throughout the world and is available for students aged 16+.

LIVING IN THE UK

Host families in the UK

A home away from home

There is no better way to truly immerse yourself in a culture than by living with and being a part of a local family.

Our rigorously screened host families provide a safe and welcoming home environment, caring for students as if they were part of the family. Since Educatius finds and works with host families directly, we are able to provide support to our students in every aspect of life in the UK.

In addition, each student is assigned a Student Liaison Officer who will answer any questions and address any concerns that may arise. They organise regular meetings with students and provide encouragement and support throughout the stay.

Educatius has a long track record of success and we take great care in ensuring that our students are safe, supported and enjoying their programme with us.

Students will be accommodated with a host family if they are enrolled on the following programmes:

- ✓ Academic Exchange
- ✓ Classic Exchange
- ✓ Select State School
- ✓ Private Day School

Boarding school experience

Living in a boarding school dormitory can be a wonderful experience for international students. Each dormitory has a warm, welcoming environment with lots of ongoing supervision and support from professional staff who live in the boarding house with the students.

On the weekends, there are plenty of activities to keep students busy and active – from sports activities and regional trips, to university campus visits and Oxbridge entry preparation.

In addition to the support provided by the school staff, all students enrolled through Educatius are provided with a comprehensive Guardianship package.

Educatius can arrange holiday and exeat weekend host family cover during the periods when the school closes. This is a great opportunity to experience life in a British home.

STUDY HIGH SCHOOL IN IRELAND!

Highlights of the Ireland programme:

- ✓ Warm, open-hearted host families
- ✓ Traditional educational pathways
- ✓ Unique study experiences - Transition Year
- ✓ Vibrant Gaelic culture
- ✓ Private education at an exceptional price
- ✓ Safety and hospitality

In Ireland you're very welcome!

Ireland may have a small population of 4.8 million people, but they certainly make up for this lack of density with their famous hospitality! Ireland is regularly voted one of the friendliest countries in the world.

Ancient Gaelic history is mixed with a hip urban culture in cities like Dublin and Cork. The country has beautiful coastlines, rolling green hills, buzzing metropolitan areas and charming rural villages. Don't forget to wear green on St Patrick's Day, and may the luck of the Irish be with you!

ACADEMIC BENEFITS OF STUDYING IN IRELAND

Ireland has one of the highest rates of literacy amongst all European nations and this is in part due to its very successful education system.

In some rural locations schools are quite small (approx. 250 students), and benefit from smaller class sizes and a more academic-focused curriculum than in the UK.

Educatus Group partners with schools that are often traditional, denominational and could be co-educational or single-gender.

What is the school system in Ireland?

1st - 3rd Year	1st Year - 12 year olds / 2nd Year - 13 year olds / 3rd Year-14 year olds	Junior Cycle culminating in the Junior Certificate	Students study a combination of 7 or 8 core subjects and 2 or 3 chosen subjects, giving a total of 9 to 11 subjects.
4th Year	15 year olds (though other students can opt for this year)	Transition Year Programme	Students study core subjects and 'taster' subjects alongside activity-based learning courses. See below for further details.
5th Year - 6th Year	5th Year is the entry year for all 16 - 17 year olds. There is no direct entry into 6th Year	Leaving Certificate (5-6 subjects over 2 years)	Schools generally offer the option of studying seven subjects. These are a combination of 3 core subjects and 4 chosen subjects

What is Transition Year?

The Transition Year programme is unique to Ireland and is designed to prepare teenagers for adult life. In addition to academic core subjects (including English and Mathematics), students take 'taster' subjects from the 5th Year syllabus so that they can make a more informed decision regarding which subjects they wish to study for the Leaving Certificate. However, the biggest draw for the Transition Year programme is its practical aspect. Each school has a wide variety of activity-based learning courses including work experience, fashion design, sports, performing arts, field trips, debating, running a mini business and many many more. The main benefit of this kind of learning is that students get a break from an endless cycle of examinations and assessment so that they can enter the 5th Year as more well-rounded students who know where their strengths lie.

What can students do with the Leaving Certificate?

Many students wish to stay for the full two years of the Leaving Certificate programme in order to graduate from Irish High School and enter some of the fantastic universities that Ireland has to offer. Additionally, some students choose to go abroad to study in other destinations such as the UK.
